"After the procession the crowd met at City Hotel, and William Robertson, Alderman, was called to the chair, and following resolutions passed:

"Res. Resolved.—That we, the Orange of the City of Kingston, have heard with feigned pleasure and delight of the election of our much esteemed brother, Wm. Johnson, of Bellykibbeg House, County Wick, Ireland, Deputy Grand Master of the Ormen of Ireland, Grand Master of the Ormen of Belfast, &c., to a seat in the Imperial Convention.

representatives of the town of Belfast, his eloquence and ability will find a field for the promotion of the interests of the Institution in particular, and the cause of Protestantism in general.

2nd. Resolved.—That having for years served the steadfastness and undivided attachment of Bro. Johnston to the Orange Institution in his fearless and spoken advocacy of its principles, we heartily congratulate our brethren in arms on the success that has crowned their efforts, and we trust that they will in having been able to return a representative to Parliament, so peculiarly their own.

3rd. Resolved.—That we heartily congratulate our brethren on the success that has crowned their efforts, and we trust that they will in having been able to return a representative to Parliament, so peculiarly their own.

Bro. Johnston our fraternal congratulations on the occasion of his assuming so important a trust, and we earnestly hope that his Parliamentary experience he will have his power to assist in removing from the neck of the Orangemen of Ireland, that most galling yoke, the so called Party Procession.

4th. Resolved,—That a copy of these resolutions be engrossed, and be forwarded to Bro. Johnston with as little delay as possible.

Another Plot in the Penitentiary.

The News of Dec. 1st says: "A plot among convicts of the Penitentiary was discovered on Monday, fortunately in time to render it abortive. It was planned that at dinner time some of the convicts should throw in the eyes of the guards present, steel filings and snuff, thus temporarily blinding them. When a general rush of the prisoners was to be made, the guards disarmed and secured. A full and complete investigation will shortly be a strict investigation into the present state of the prison and the conduct of the guards."

In addition to the above, the Whig "A second conspiracy, but one not so formidable as the first, was frustrated at Penitentiary on Saturday morning. About five o'clock a light appeared in the corridors, and the attendants notice of a guard, who repaired to the convict, whose hope of escape was stronger than his foresight, had improvised a dian costume after a crude notion of his own, and to him in a strike for liberty. "make up" consisted of a bed blanket covering, the traditional legging paint for the face and other little touches though the head-dress was dispensed as an unnecessary consideration. This idea: he was to wear the blanket leggings under his convict's dress of the Penitentiary, where he was to be his curiosity, and when the laxity of the surveillance gave the opportunity he decided to slope off to the nearest woods, and discard the Government suit and apply red paint. Then of course he thought unapproachable attire would completely hide his identity, and he would secure priceless boon he sought. But fate is contrary in its ways, for when the convict donned the costume on Saturday morning his curiosity led him to light a match in order to have a glance at its stunning effect before hiding it, the guard inopportunistly intercepted him. A severe and painful throat has been cured for years, rendering my right ear almost deaf and extending across my chest and down my side, making me unable to walk, and comparative-ly lost all sleep, and was in the last stages of the disease called Liver Drops, when I was advised to use the Bristol's Sarsaparilla, and after taking a small course, advised me to try a bottle and I did so; taking at the same time, as directed, a couple of Bristol's Sugar-Coated Pills. I am now entirely recovered, free from pain, and feel as well as ever. I have a new lease of life, and I can heartily recommend the Sarsaparilla Pills to any one suffering with the same trouble. SALE OF REAL PROPERTY

IN THE TOWNSHIP OF SIDNEY.

In pursuance of a decree of the Court of Chancery, made in the estate of Mrs. Maria W. Deane, deceased, the following public sale of real estate was held on the day of January, 1897, there will be sold by the undersigned, at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Deane, Esquire, New York City, the real estate of said deceased, to-wit: a certain lot in Brooklyn, by the said Master or his Clerk, at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Deane, Esquire, New York City, on Saturday, 26th day of December, 1898, at the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, to the highest bidder, for cash, the following valuable farm property:

Being Lot 15 in the broken front containing about 12 acres of land, containing also a certain share of the ownership of Sidney, containing about fifteen-five acres of land, containing also a certain share of the ownership of a certain farm, containing about 15 acres of land, owned by George Smith & Co., of New York City.

There are the following buildings upon the said lot—a good dwelling house of brick, with a porch, and an orchard. The brick house is about seven miles from the city of New York, and is situated on the road to Ballerlin.

The purchaser will be required to pay down to the vendor or his Solicitors a proportion of ten per cent for every hundred dollars of the purchase money at the time of the sale, and the balance of the purchase money at the time of the sale, to be paid in cash, or by promissory note, to the satisfaction of the said Master or his Clerk, at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Deane, Esquire, New York City, on the day of the sale, and upon such last named payment the said Master or his Clerk, at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Deane, Esquire, New York City, will put up at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Deane, Esquire, New York City, a deed of conveyance of the said real estate to the purchaser.

The above premises will be put up at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Deane, Esquire, New York City, on the day of the sale, and upon such last named payment the said Master or his Clerk, at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Deane, Esquire, New York City, will put up at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Deane, Esquire, New York City, a deed of conveyance of the said real estate to the purchaser.

The other conditions are the standing ditions of this Court.
